Techsource Expands Its Executive Team

Los Alamos, NM. Techsource, Inc., a multidisciplinary science and engineering consultancy, is pleased to announce the appointment of Jeffrey E. Giangliuli as Chief Operating Officer (COO). With his extensive experience expanding consulting firms spanning nearly three decades, Jeff brings valuable leadership skills and organizational insight to the executive team at a critical juncture as TechSource is completing a period of rapid growth and is staging for its next-level of success. As COO, Jeff will oversee day-to-day operations and take on direct leadership responsibilities in the areas of staff development, operational infrastructure practices, and business development execution. “Jeff brings to TechSource an impressive array of operational and financial management capabilities gained from hands-on experiences at both early-stage and mid-sized companies,” said V. Brian D’Andrea, TechSource’s CEO. “As we work to evolve internal operations, expand our technical service offerings, and grow our customer base, we are pleased to have a steady hand at the wheel that has been through this before.”

Prior to joining TechSource, Jeff was the COO and Chief Financial Officer for CALIBRE Systems in Alexandria, VA. During his 13-year tenure at CALIBRE, Jeff and the Executive Team grew top line revenue from $58M to $235M and saw stock value rise from $179/share to $1380/share. Beyond operations and financial management, Jeff is a recognized subject matter expert in the development of strategies and management systems to overcome the issues associated with military base closure and cleanup, nuclear facilities operation and disposition, and nuclear materials stabilization. Jeff is also an Adjunct Professor in the Engineering Management Program at the Catholic University of America. Prior to his work at CALIBRE, Jeff worked at Management Strategies, Inc. and then co-founded Strategic Management Initiatives, Inc. Jeff served in the U.S. Navy in the nuclear submarine community.

“I am very excited to join Brian, Don and Tom as well as the rest of the TechSource family. The company has a stellar technical reputation and the right perspective on how to do business. I believe I can add value to the Team and assist in the company’s future growth.”

Jeff earned an M.S. in Engineering Management from Catholic University, and a B.S. in Systems Engineering from the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, MD.
