TechSource Chairman and CEO Announces Departure from Los Alamos Public Schools Foundation

Los Alamos, NM. TechSource, Inc. would like to announce the departure of our Chairman and CEO, V. Brian D'Andrea, from the Los Alamos Public Schools Foundation (LAPSF). D'Andrea has been a member of the board for 9 years and has determined it is time to exit to make space for a fresh perspective on the board.

LAPSF's mission is to serve as a connection between our community and school district, evaluating needs and investing resources to improve the quality of public education in our community. D'Andrea continues to be passionate about this focus in the Los Alamos community and is confident in the board to continue to work toward this goal.

About his departure, D'Andrea stated, "It has been a pleasure to serve on the Los Alamos Public Schools Foundation board for 3 terms. The people, mission, and goals of the foundation are incredibly important to the community. I look forward to what the board will achieve moving forward."

D'Andrea will continue TechSource's commitment to serve and support the communities in which the company's employees work and live through his service on the Board of Leadership Los Alamos and Santa Fe Food Depot.
